DEMONSTRATE

Dublin, June 21.

In view of the Free State Government's proclamation of the illegality of the Irish Republican Army, officers of that force called off the banned demonstration which had been arranged at Bodenstown Churchyard, the County Kildare burialplace of the patriot Wolfetone.

The Government took elaborate precautions against the holding of the demonstration and 500 Free State troops in full war kit, with armoured cars in support and aeroplanes humming high overhead, watched the cemetery night and day.

Civic Guards and police patrolled the roads in the neighbourhood and stopped and questioned all motorists, Tulakarem engagement was the most but nothing happened, except that a smaller Republican demonstration began. was held by the women of the district. The Civic Guards quietly dispersed it.

"Jock" knew a detour to miss the flooded area, and we followed, until we were waved on and across a final 60 miles of desert we came, at long last, to a metalled road that led us to our goal.

In the distance we could see the sun gleaming on the gold (genuine 9 carat) domes and minarets of the Mosque of Kadimain.

Across the bridges of boats on the Tigris and we were in the City of the Caliphs, to find in the main streets (shades of Haroun al Raschidi) a couple of Belisha crossings!

OVERED in sand, quite unlike that spotless machine that 18 days before had left London, all three of us were very proud of the British car. And the "Magic Carpet" must have been proud of itself, for it was the first light-car ever to make this journey. And what is more, it had done so in 11 days' 'running

The journey had been no mere ' stunt, but a practical "fault-finding" test. And the report that had been wirelessed to the factory at London was, I believe, valuable, for one or two minor modifications were made in the Wolseley "Tens" and "Twelves" before they were released to the public.

The hardships to which our Wolseley was subjected are not of the kind to which the motor-car is ordinarily subject, but the way our car stood up to those hardships was a revelation.

It happened that a single sheet of these was issued with the overprint inverted. When this was discovered, an entire printing of 20,000 stamps was run off with the overprint deliberately inverted and was sold to the public at the same rate as the normal stamp. The reason for this? Simply to prevent speculation in the errors. Had a dealer obtained the single sheet of them he would have probably sold them, for as much money as had been raised for the Fund, and there are some limits to what the public will stand.

Lord Horder Suggests Biological Control for Humans

One person out of every ten in England is too dull or too unhealthy to be absorbed in industry; one out of every 120 is mentally unsound; and one out of every 300 is certified as insane.

This, according to Lord Horder, the noted physician, is the position in England to-day as the result of years of social effort and reformers' projects.

Lord Horder, who was lecturing on eugenica before the Academy of Medicine at New York, described eugenics as the soundest and most profitable form of preventive medicine (says Central News.). Efforts at attaining biological control of human development were long overdue, he said.

"The gist of the matter seems to me," he said, "to be summed up in the question—Are we going to continue to breed and support a race of sub-men, or are we going to encourage the elevation of the race and thus reduce our commitments in the field of what we call social service?"

COMPLEX HUMAN PROBLEM

No one, Lord Horder pointed out, questioned the wisdom or morality of biological control in the animal and plant worlds. A principle which was accepted in the case of "our horses, our cattle, our dogs, our corn, and our cabbages," he held, should have ceased long ago to rause shock when some far from complex, but scientists were

DARKEST AFRICA CONQUERED

FORD V-8 CAR'S FEAT

As a rest cure after nine years of research work in the Cavendish Laboratory at the University of Cambridge, Dr. William L. Webster drove a Ford V-8 15,000 miles across Africa. On this solo jaunt which took him from Nairobl, in Kenya Colony, East Africa, through the dark Belgian Gongo and across the vast losing their significance. Neverthe-less some of the exciting experiences revealed in the doctor's diary of the two factors - a competent man and a reliable car.

10,000 Feet Altitude

Nairobi, for years the jumping-off place for big-game hunters in East Africa. on December 27, he drove north and west through the great Rift Valley, a semi-civilized district west of which rises the Molo-Mau Plateau with an altitude of 9,000 to 10,000 feet. This magnificent open rellies constructed in the case of imports, and peditions, which have burned suspects. This has led to a declaration by parative figures of imports and executed suspects. This has led to a declaration by the Viceroy of Ethiopia, Field Markay 1936 and May, 1936 and May, 1936 and May, 1936.

Continuing west, Dr. Webster's route led him along the shores of famous Lake Victoria to Kampala, where preparations were made for plunging into the wildest section of the mysterious continent, the Belgian

The rest stations, or native inns, where evernight stops were made were usually nothing more than rude wood and clay huts. Often these rest stations offered the traveller little besides food and a roof for shelter. Bananas, a main part of the diet, usually could be purchased for the equivalent of one cent gold a bunch. Of one night spent in a native rest station Dr Webster recorded in his diary: "Our sleep was disturbed only by the visits of a grunting pig and a stray dog that entered the room unbidden in search of dood."

Gamel Path Across Sahara

Through the dark Congo jungle, travel was difficult and many rivers were crossed each day. These streams varied in width from five yards to a quarter mile and the cost of native ferry service was always 10 francs. After Dr. Webster and his Ford had crossed the Bomu River on a Belgian ferry into French Equatorial Africa, the jungle began to thin and preparations were made for the drive across the Sohara.

The trail over the desert was nothing more than a camel path, almost impassable at times as a result of sand storms. Often the road was completely obliterated by drifting sand dunes and progress was frequently slowed while camel caravans moved off the road. Distances of a hundred miles or more often separated ases or government stations. During the entire journey across the trackautomobile trouble theountered was tire puncture.

First Tub in 2 Months

On February 5th Dr. Webster reached El Golea, outlying symbol of civilisation on the northern edge of the Sahara, where he enjoyed the comfort of a bath-tub of hot water in the Hotel Transatlantique, the first since Nelrobi. A few days later ne. drove into Algiers, on the Mediterranean, after a journey of 2 months across the darkest sections of dark Africa,

A large part of the success of this undertaking depended on the car, and Dr. Webster's Ford V-8 gave unusual service. The Ford body was a type unknown outside Africa. Developed and built in Nairobi to meet the exacting needs of explorers, scientists and big game hunters, it is known all the "Safari" or "Kenya" body. Dr. Webster reports of his Ford V-8, "It gave me not a moment's trouble 10 Give a claim. or worry on the whole journey." 11 The sound of the scythe. He took the car to Canada and drove 12 Giving back, the remainder it to his father's home in Shediac.

They will easily recapture the scenes o bewildering traffic mazes up the historic Wimbledon Common Hill and re-live the spirit of carnival which reigns both inside and outside of the All-England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club.

As has been-truly said, Wimbledon is something more than a sports meeting. It is a social event: a fashion parade. It combines the dignity of a Royal Garden Party, the colourful dis-Stubbs Road play of Ladies' Day at an Eton and Harrow cricket match, and the thrills of an English Cup

There was the poor fellow in the dock. There were we, shut up in our little room behind the Court. And um sure that in at least two cases in which I was involved one determined man among us could have swayed the rest into returning the opposite verdict to which we did in fact return! Some members of the jury were merely apathetic; they were willing to fall in with the majority. Others talked a great deal about almost everything except the immediate pro-blem which faced us. Others found the whole thing too much of a strain. In the end the verdict was virtually returned by one or two jurymen.

I am not sure if, in any given case, we returned a true verdict or not. But I do know that if I, an innocent man, were to find myself in the dock next week, I should be horrified to think of the arbitrary way my fate was being decided behind the closed

The trouble is that jurymen think they are being fair, when, as modern psychology suggests, they are really swayed by all kinds of unconscious prejudices. That is one reason why I think it is unfair to a prisoner to take all of a jury from men living in the same small district.

The ideal jury, from the point of view of justice, and from the point of view of the prisoner, would surely consist of a duke, a dustman, a doctor, n tenchur, a business man, a miner, and so on. In a thoroughly mixed jury like this there would be much less likelihood of psychological bins than in a jury consisting exclusively. of small tradesmen or clerks.

The way juries are so often empanelled now leads to too great a sameness. A jury of stolld tradesnien, for example, does not start absolutely unbiased in considering the case of an immoral, spendthrift, society butterfly, even if her immorality is totally irrelevant as far as her alleged crime is concerned. But if you ask me what substitute there is for a jury, I reply, frankly, that I don't know. Personally, having served on juries, I would prefer to be left to the rigidly impartial wisdom. of, say three judges.

I'm going to be a little worried after you're married, whether you will know just how to coax him to cat."

America's "Devil's Is." Is In the Limelight

San Francisco, June 10. Vague, persistent rumours about America's most mysterious prison-Alcatraz-were partially dispelled recently by Sanford Bates, national director of Federal prisons.

Bates, on a tour of inspection, talked with about 80 of the 260 prisoners at Alcatraz.

Only one complained that the food was not good enough. Some wanted to get out from under the iron discipling which has made the Alentraz, Bates said.

ROOSEVELT SURE OF NOMINATION THIS WEEK

Philadelphia, June 21.

The Democratic party in its pre-election convention here this week is expected to feature with pride the achievements of President Roosevelt in the fields of pan-Americanism, foreign trade and neutrality.

Roosevelt's foreign projects have met with varying Military March in E flat (Schubert): success, according to many observers, due partly to the Late to-morrow (Langenberg); 4. disturbed state of world affairs and partly to devotion of great energy to domestic economic recovery.

But the Democrats themselves, and many impartial experts, regard as successes the president's now-famous policy of "Good Neighbour" in Latin American affairs; the gain of 41 per cent. in exports during the Democratic regime and the formation of a neutrality policy designed to reduce the chances of the nation being drawn into war.

Italians Propose Statue of Christ for Addis Ababa

A proposal to erect a large statue of Christ in the centre of Addis Ababa to "symbolise the beginning of a new Christian era for Abyssinia" has been presented to the Italian Government by the Executive Committee of the Anti-Blasphemy Society, of which King Victor Emmanuel is honorary president.

In Addis Ababa this month a batch of chained Abyssinian prisoners awaiting execution tried to escape and were mown down by Italian machine-guns. Reports that Abyssinians are being shot in batches of 50 by their Italian executioners are denied in Rome. -British United Press and Renter.

TO-DAY'S IMPORTANT MIXED DOUBLES MATCH

England's Big Week Of Sport

WIMBLEDON AND DONALD THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Another brilliant week of sports opens in England to-day. The Derby and Ascot are over, and to-day racing gives place to tennis, golf and cricket.

At Wimbledon, "The Championship," as they are now termed, where is gathered the greatest array of tennis skill in the world, will open to-day with first round men's singles matches on all of the 16 courts.

At Hoylake the British Open Golf Championship will be played, starting to-day. The amazing performances of Alfred Padgham make him Lavourite for the Litle which was last year won by A. Perry, the Englishenan. Padgham was beaten during the week-end by Adams the Scottish champion, but it is not likely this will cause him to lose public favour.

America, naturally, has sent over to the form which can be expected of a strong contingent and chief threat him during the next fortnight. to British supremncy comes from Courth.

PERRY'S TASK

England will also be defending the anajor title at Wimbledon where Fred Perry is threatened by a powerful overseas invasion including Von Cramm of Germany, Donald Budge, Bryan Grant, Wilmer Allison of Ame-rica, Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist. of Australia, and less formidable, Boussus and Destremeau of France. Perry has also to take into consideration the challenge of H. W. Austin.

CLEAN SWEEP AT QUEEN'S CLUB WIMBLEDON

POINTER

London, June 20. It has now become customary for the Americans to dominate the London tennis championships at Queen's Club particularly as the tournament, being so close to Wimbledon, does not attract England's leading players or a very powerful overseas entry. Thus to-day Americans figured in all of the finals at Queen's Club. Donald Budge collected three titlesmen's singles, men's doubles and mixdoubles. The flery-headed Californian with the long booked nose and attractive smile, swept past David Jones, his compatriot, to win the singles with the loss of seven games in two sets. It was a good pointer there. Last year, after a long period tory of Budge and Gene Make over his top form, the visitors may find of dverseas dominancy, England not Wilmer Allison and Van Ryn in the themselves dependent on two pairs. only won the championship, but her final of the men's doubles. REMARKABLE DECLINE

The decline of Allison and Van Ryn since their defeat by Hughes and Tuckey in the Davis Cup last year has been remarkable, and no donger can they be regarded as America's chief hopes for the Wimbledon title. Budge and Make are the likeliest challengers of Crawford and Quist.

Budge took part in his third finalthe mixed doubles-late in the day and with Mrs. Sarah Fabyan lost the first set to Charles Hare of England and Mile. Jedzrejowska of Poland. Mile. Jedzrejowska was playing her second final, having previously beaten Miss Susan Noel, English player in

A CHANCE

Having annihilated Kowloon Cricket Club second team to the tune of nine-love, Chinese Recreation Club to-day conclusions with K.C.C. (1) in the mixed doubles tennis league. The match is being played at K.C.C. and promises to provide one of the best encounters of the season.

K.C.C.'s unexpectedly good showing against U.S.R.C. in their first match of the season encourages them to regard to-day's test with a certain amount of confidence. There is not sufficient comparative form to say whether C.R.C. are stronger or even as strong as U.S.R.C., but paper form alone indicates they have a very useful team, and, like the U.S.R.C. are well served by their indy players.

GROUND A REAL ADVANTAGE

The fact that the match is being played at Cox's Road is a real advantage to the K.C.C., and it may be sufficient to turn the result in their Even more important was the vic- favour. Unless Tsui Yun-pul strikes enjoy a slight edge. They have a more reliable, if less brilliant, trio of men. On the other hand C.R.C. would appear to be somewhat better served by their ladies, even allowing for the fact that Mrs. Litton is not so strong as she used to be.

If K.C.C. can louch maximum form they stand a 50-50 chance of winning.

U.S.R.C. will be tested by Club de Recreio who Inst week shared the points with K.C.C. (2). In that match A. V. Remedios was seen at his best which makes him second to none in Hongkong, but Portuguese are not so well served by their ladies as the U.S.R.C., and as Mrs. Kayll is now fit, it is unlikely that Recrelo will secure more than two or three sets.

Both C.R.C. teams can be expected to win, the "Over 40" against Central British and the senior outfit against I.R.C. Kowloon Cricket Club will not have a very easy task against University whom they entertain, especially in view of the Varsity's victory over Craigengower last week. Nevertheless K.C.C. should win and I expect to see points go to Craigengower, and, of course, Recreio who are hosts to H.K.C.C.

WORLD RECORD BREAK

Tom Newman's Feat At Thurston's

Landon, May 29. Tom Newman set up a new world record under the amended baulk-line rule when he made a break of 1,394 against Joe Davis, holder, in the final of the Professional Billiards Championship at Thurston's last night. The previous best was 1,177 by Davis. Newman's effort was made by a -variation of all-round play and top-of-the-table billiards. It occupied about one and a half hours and contained surprisingly few runs of consecutive

THE Australian Minister for Defence, Sir 1. George Pearce, has announced that neither ex-German New Guinea, now held by the Commonwealth under mandate, nor any other Australian territory, will ever be handed over to any but British control.

"By reason of its geographical position in relation to Australia, its natural harbours and its facilities for naval and military aircraft, ex-German New Guinen is of considerable strategic value to Australin from a defence aspect," Sir George said.

"Every country is entitled to examine any international issue in the light of its own security and national interests, and the inviolability and integrity of our Australian territories is as much a cardinal aim of the Australian people as the White Australia REPLY TO JAPAN?

Determined to Fight Japan

SOUTH UNSHAKEN BY NANKING ATTITUDE

Canton, June 22.

Clarifying the South-west provinces' stand in connection with the recent expedition which marched into Hunan, Marshal Chan Chai-tong declared to-day, in a speech at the Weekly Memorial Service, that their policy of resistance to Japan was no new thing, but had been adopted since the Mukden incident of September 18, 1930. For that reason, he said, Nanking's objection to an-anti-Japanese expedition was not understandable.

He explained at length the circumstances leading to the decision of the South-west Political Council to march against Japan, emphasising that although the Kwangtung and Kwangsi forces had been withdrawn to their own borders in order to avoid the danger of civil war, the South-west's anti-Japanese stand remained unaltered. The South-west policy, he declared, was still to seek resistance against Japanese aggression under the leadership of the Central Government, hoping that the Central authorities will show a determination to resist invasion and fix a route by which the South-west armies can march north to participate in the war.-Renter Special.

Dangerous Pressure

Canton, June 22. Marshal Chan Chai-tong and General Li Tsung-jen, Kwangtung The Central Government to-day and Kwangsi leaders respectively, have again sent a telegraphic message to Marshal Chiang Kai-shek requesting the immediate discontinuance of west provinces. the southward advance by the Central Government troops. the part of the Central Government within a week, his forces would move against the South-west will result to eject them. in such indignation and reaction on | and Kwangsi that the danger of war tung commander-in-chief, intends to will surely follow.

Continued Advance The telegram denounces the Nanking command for continuing its southward push in spite of the fact that Kwangtung and Kwangsi have withdrawn their troops, and Marshal Chiang Kal-shek to make the momentous decision on which the fate of the nation depends. The South-west leaders pledge their full support to a campaign .to resist the Japanese, declaring if the Central Government orders resistance, turns its forces northward and fix a route for the advance, the Southwest troops are prepared to die on the battlefield fighting the enemy, and abiding by the orders of the Central authorities .- Renter Special.

Plea For Peace

Tientsin, June 22. Following a conference; General Sung Cheh-yuan and General Han Fu-chu to-day telegraphed Nanking and Canton appealing for a cessation of military movements and urging penceful settlement. He declared that internal strif would diminish the national energy and make China a laughing-stock for the world.

As generals guarding the border provinces, they were anxious lest an outbreak of war ruin the country,-

The hardships to which our Wolseley was subjected are not of the kind to which the motor-car is ordinarily subject, but the way our car stood up to those hardships was a revelation.

STAMPS make MONE-Y

ESPITE the careful supervision of the postal authoritles, many stamps with errors, more especially of the strcharged and overprinted types, are issued to the public.

How many are aware, though, that in at least one country an "error" was deliberately printed and sold for postal purpose? This actually happened in Barbados, a British colony in the West Indies. In 1907 the Governor authorised the issue of a special stamp in order to raise a relief fund for the sufferers of the earthquake and fire which had practically destroyed Kingstown, Jamaica, in January of that year,

For this purpose 70,000 copies of the 2d. slate blue and orange stamp of 1899 were surcharged with the words -"Kingstown Relief Fund 1d."-in four lines of script type, and they were sold to the public at face value, out were avaliable for penny post only, the extra penny going to the Fund It happened that a single sheet of these was issued with the overprint inverted. When this was discovered, an entire printing of 20,000 atamps was run off with the overprint deliberately inverted and was sold to the public at the same rate as the normal stamp. The reason for this? Simply to prevent speculation in the errors. Had a dealer obtained the single sheet of them he would have probably sold them for as much money as had been raised for the Fund, and there are some limits to what the public will

One person out of every ten in England is too dull or too unhealthy to be absorbed in industry; one out of every 120 is mentally unsound; and one out of every 300 is certified as insanc.

This, according to Lord Horder, the noted physician, is the position in England to-day as the result of years of social effort and reformers' projects.

Lord Horder, who was lecturing on eugenics before the Academy of Medicine at New York, described eugenics as the soundest and most profitable form of preventive medi-cine (says Central News.) Efforts at attaining biological control of human development were long overdue, he said.

"The gist of the matter seems to me," he said, "to be summed up in the question—Are we going to continue to breed and support a race of sub-men, or are we going to encourage the elevation of the race and thus reduce our commitments in the field of what we call social service?"

COMPLEX HUMAN PROBLEM

No one, Lord Horder pointed out, questioned the wisdom or morality of biological control in the animal and plant worlds. A principle which was accepted in the case of "our horses, our cattle, our dogs, our corn, and our cabbages," he held, should have ceased long ago to cause when conlong ago to cause shock when con-templated in relation to human beings.

Gigantic American Legal Battle Over Richest Man's Income Tax Nears End

MELLON MILLIONS: DID HE PAY TOO MUCHORTOOLITTLE?

Washington, June 10.

The long fight between Andrew W. Mellon, one of the "world's richest men, and the federal government over the question of income taxes, is now in its final stages.

The government claims the former secretary of the Unitedal States treasury owes $3,075,103 in back income taxes. Mellon sees the situation as being quite reverse. He insists that he overpaid the government $139,045 in taxes and wants it back.

Opposing attorneys have filed briefs with the board of tax appeals. The government's case is set forth in six volumes comprising approximately 1,000 pages of textual and tabular matter. Mellon's counsel needed five volumes and more than 700 pages.

On Mellon's side, Frank J. before the heard of tax appeals in Hogan, his attorney, said the ease against Mellon had no foundation, that it had been prosecuted for "political Expediency," that the commissioner of Internal Revenue had been so appearance of his claims that he that he might on cross examination uncertain of his claims that he that he might on cross examination had changed the amount on three fall to sustain his father's case, we occasions.

The controversy grew out of Mellon's return on his 1931 income. In 1933, the government made a claim of $2,050,069, charging Mellon with underpaying. Mellon promptly filed a claim for a robate, claiming he had overpaid. The government charged that Mellon's net taxable income for 1931 had been $13,675,285 but that by a series of "wash sales" of securities through corporations dwned wholly or partly by himself or his children, he had reduced this net illegally. The Joe-Louis-Max Schmeling fight at Yankee stadium on the night of June 18 is expected to attract considerable share of bonus money. The major league baseball parks undoubtedly will benefit, as well as other amusement enterprises.

Not all the money, however, will be spent on pleasures. . Some of 'it will go toward paying mortgages on libomes, toward furniture and toward liquidating debts incurred during; periods of financial stress. Nevertheless, a well known onponent of the veterans' bonus was scoptical. He said:

My experience, on at least two 'of" the juries with which I sat, was that ns soon as we had vacated the box and taken our places round the table in the little room behind the Court, we immediately found ourselves awayed by one or two of the more forceful, strong-willed personalities among us. Except in cases where the Judge had practically commanded the bringing of a certain verdict, it was amazing to see how vacillating jury members could be. There was the poor fellow in the dock. There were we, shut up in our little room behind the Court. And am sure that in at least two cases in which I was involved one determined man among us could have swayed the rest into returning the opposite verdict to which we did in fact return!

Some members of the jury were merely apathetic; they were willing to fall in with the majority. Others talked a great deal about almost everything except the immediate problem which faced us. Others found the whole thing too much of a strain. In the end the verdict was virtually returned by one or two jurymen.

I am not sure if, in any given case, we returned a true verdict or not.

But I do know that if I an innecent

But I do know that if I, an innecent man, were to find myself in the dock next week, I should be horrified to think of the arbitrary way my fate was being decided behind the closed

The trouble is that jurymen think they are being fair, when, as modern psychology suggests, they are really swayed by all kinds of unconscious prejudices. That is one reason why I think it is unfair to a prisoner to take all of a jury from men living in the same small district.

The ideal jury, from the point of view of justice, and from the point of view of the prisoner, would surely consist of a duke, a dustman, a doctor, a teacher, a business man, a miner, and so on. In a thoroughly mixed jury like this there would be much less likelihood of psychological bias than in a jury consisting exclusively of small tradesmen or clerks.

The way juries are so often empanelled now leads to too great, a sameness. A jury of stolld tradesmen, for example, does not start absolutely unbiased in considering the case of an immoral, spendthrift, society butterfly, even if her immorality is totally irrelevant as faras her alleged crime is concerned. · But if you ask me what substitutothere is for a jury, I reply, frankly, that I don't know. Personally, having served on juries, I would prefer to be left to the rigidly impartial wisdom: of, my three judges.

San Francisco, June 10. Vague, persistent rumours about America's most mysterious prison-Alcatraz-were partially dispelled recently by Sanford Bates, national director Federal prisons.

Bates, on a tour of inspection, talked with about 80 of the 260 Land prisoners at Alcatraz.

Only one complained that the food was not good enough. Somo Emission wanted to get out from under the Commission iron discipline which has made the Alentraz, Bates said.

Alentraz, built on a rock in San Francisco Bay from which escape is all but hopeless, has been called the Devil's Island of the United States. Al Loomis, recently released after 16 months in Alcatraz, spoke bitterly of the hardships the prisoners had to

ROOSEVELT SURE OF NOMINATION WEEK THIS

Philadelphia, June 21.

The Democratic party in its pre-election convention here this week is expected to feature with pride the achievements of President Roosevelt in the fields of pan-Americanism, foreign trade and neutrality.

Roosevelt's foreign projects have met with varying Military March in E flat (Schubert); success, according to many observers, due partly to the Late to-morrow (Langenberg); 4. disturbed state of world affairs and partly to devotion of great energy to domestic economic recovery.

But the Democrats themselves, and many impartial experts, regard as successes the president's now-famous policy of "Good Neighbour" in Latin 'American affairs; the gain of 41 per cent. in exports during the Democratic regime and the formation of a neutrality policy designed to reduce the chances of the nation being drawn into war.

TO-DAY'S IMPORTANT MIXED DOUBLES MATCH

England's Big Week Of Sport

WIMBLEDON AND DONALD THE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Another brilliant week of sports opens in England to-day. The Derby and Ascot are over, and te-day racing gives place to tennis, golf and cricket.

At Wimbledon, "The Championship," as they are now termed, where is rathered the greatest array of tennis skill in the world, will open to-day with first round men's singles matches on all of the 16 courts.

At Hoylake the British Open Golf Championship will be played, starting to-day. The amazing performances of Alfred Padgham make him favourite for the title which was last all of the finals at Queen's Club, year won by A. Perry, the Englishman. Padgham was beater during the week-end by Adams the Scottish fornian with the long booked nose and champion, but it is not likely this will attractive smile, swept past David cause him to lose public favour.

Last year, after a long period of overseast dominancy, England not only won the championship, but her players occupied the first dour positions, Charles Whitcombe finished second, Gadd third and Henry Cotton Americans have enjoyed over the fafourth.

PERRY'S TASK

England will also be defending the major title at Wimbledon where Fred Perry is threatened by a powerful Cramm of Germany, Donald Budge. Bryan Grant, Wilmer Allison of America, Jack Crawford and Adrian Quist of Australia, and less formidable. Boussus and Destrement of France. BUDGE'S ITLES

CLEAN SWEEP AT QUEEN'S CLUB

WIMBLEDON POINTER

London, June 20. It has now become customary for the Americans to dominate the London tennia championships at Queen's Club particularly as the tournament, being so close to Wimbledon, does not attract England's leading players or a very powerful overseas entry.

Thus to-day Americans figured in Donald Budge collected three titles men's singles, men's doubles and mix-Jones, his compatriot, to win the singles with the loss of seven games America, naturally, has sent over in two sets; it was a good pointer ilm during the next fortnight.

Even more important was the victory of Budge and Gene Mako over Wilmer Allison and Van Ryn in the final of the men's doubles. This was also accomplished in straight sets and marked the lifth success the young mous Davis Cup combination during the past twelve months.

REMARKABLE DECLINE

The decline of Allison and Van Ryn | overseas invasion ircluding. HOWE TEAM HAS A CHANCE

(By "VERITAS")

Having annihilated Kowloon Cricket Club second team to the tune of nine-love, Chinese Recreation Club to-day try conclusions with K.C.C. (1) in the mixed doubles tennis lengue. The match is being played at K.C.C. and promises to provide one of the best encounters of the season.

K.C.C.'s unexpectedly good showing against U.S.R.C. in their first match. of the season encourages them to regard to-day's test with a certain amount of confidence. There is not sufficient comparative form to say whether C.R.C. are stronger or even as strong as U.S.R.C., but paper form alone indicates they have a very useful tenm, and, like the U.S.R.C. are well served by their indy players

The fact that the match is being played at Cox's Road is a real advantage to the KiC.C., and it may be sufficient to turn the result in their favour. Unless Tsui Yun-pul strikes his top form, the visitors may find themselves dependent on two pairs. In this respect the homesters should enjoy a slight edge. They have a more reliable, if less brilliant, trio of men. On the other hand C.R.C. would appear to be somewhat better served by their ladies, even allowing for the fact that Mrs. Litton is not so strong as she used to be.

If K.C.C. can touch maximum form

U.S.R.C. will be tested by Club de-Recreto who last week shared the his best which makes him second Budge took part in his third final-- to none in Hongkong, but the

END OF BOXING DOMINANCE

San Francisco, Cal. Long-time Filipino'. dominance on the west coast in the fly and bantamweight divisions has virtually come to an end with Dano, in their prime California ring favourites of thousands.

With the exception of Small Montano, generally recognized as world champion in the 112-pound division. Filipino flyweights are entirely out of the local picture.

The situation is even worse in the. bantamweight division.

In only two other divisions, and meagrely, are Filipinos at present represented in the United States-the 126 and 445-pound classes.

In the former, Buenaventure de Guznun, Oriental featherweight chamnion, a recent arrival, has thus far failed to impress. In the latter, Ceferino Garcia, former state champion, has shown evident signs

MENACE TO THE PUBLIC:

BANISHEE TO SERVE THREE YEARS

Described as a menace to the public and said to have had 17 previous convictions, dating back to 1922, Lam Choi was senfenced to three years' hard labour by Mr. Justice J. J. Hayden in the Criminal Sessions this morning when pleaded guilty to a charge of returning from banishment.

The accused was last banished on August 26, 1035 for a period of ten years, and was arrested on May 5 this year.

Mr. M. J. Abbott, Assistant Crown Solicitor, who prosecuted, said that the police regarded the prisoner as a menace to the public in view of his record and because of the fact that he had been convicted no fewer than six times for the same offence. Pleading guilty to a similar charge, Ho Po was sentenced to two years' hard labour. Sitting as Coroner at the Central Magistracy this morning, Mr. J. H. B. Lee conducted an inquest into the death of a male prisoner, Tsoi Ng. 28 years, who died in Victoria Gaol Hospital at 3.16 yesterday morning. The jury comprised Mr. F. G. Herridge (foreman), Mr J. L. Alves and Mr.

Yuen Kam-fan. Chief Warder H. Barrett deposed that the prisoner, No. 7012, was admitted on June 10 last to undergo 42 days' hard labour in default of payment of a fine of $50. On June 19, he was admitted to haspital.

Dr. G. Ingram Shaw testified that he first saw the prisoner on June, 11 and he was put down as a chronic oplum addict suffering from pulmonary tuberculosis, and condition very. poor. On June 13 he was admitted to hospital for three days. On June he was re-admitted with a haemorrhage in the stomach. The cause of death was pulmonary tuberculosis, and, secondarily, chronic oplum poisoning and a tumor at the head of the pancreas, which Dr. Shaw thought gave rise to the haemorrhage,
